Where Does My Money Go?

By Monica Gardner

First of all, if you're not already doing this, before you give away your hard earned money to any charity, you should check them out online. Here's a free website you can go to: <http://990finder.foundationcenter.org/>

At the above site, you can look at the tax returns that all charities receiving over a certain amount of money per year have to file. They are called US Form 990. You can see HSWC's last three 990s there and we will be filing our newest one for the 2016/2017 fiscal year soon.

Our yearly expense budget in recent years has been between $200,000 and $250,000. It has not been unusual for us to go "over budget" ever since we started taking in dogs. The fact is, they are more expensive to care for than cats. Hence, every year we are looking for more creative ways to raise our funding so we aren't dipping into our reserves, but the bottom line is we will do pretty much whatever we have to in order to care for the animals properly. This includes frugality, ingenuity and dedication, and we could never do it without you, our donors!

Since the 990s have the actual dollar amounts on them, I'm not going to go into that type of detail here. We ask that you take a look at our website after the first of the year for a new graphic called "Where Does My $$ Go?". We will also provide links to our 990s along with our Animal Intake and Outcome Statistics.

The following are some FAQ:

How much funding do we receive from Waupaca County?

ZERO $. We are a charity, not a county entity and they do not fund us.

What about the city of Waupaca?

The other townships?

The City of Waupaca (cats and dogs), Town of Dayton and City of Weyauwega (cats only) are the only municipalities that have a contract with us at this time. They pay us to care for unclaimed

The Spay-Neuter Controversy

The emphasis on the importance of spaying and neutering a pet is of utmost importance for any cat and dog not specifically intended for breeding purposes. The unwanted reproduction of pets, especially cats, has become an incredible burden on our society.

In the past twenty years, a great deal of emphasis has been placed on early spay-neuter programs. These have entailed the surgical sterilization of pets from the age of 8 to 16 weeks. This allowed humane societies and rescue organizations to adopt out only surgically sterilized pets. The concept and implementation of it worked great. It helped greatly with “no more litters” programs. But, like anything, it was challenged. After years of studies finding no detriment to early age spay-neuter programs, some finally did, mainly involving dogs.

In the end except for the possible rare negative side effects of neutering cats too young, the studies became all about dogs. Studies have shown that spaying and neutering dogs is not always of benefit. Current recommendations indicate that certain purebreds should only be surgically sterilized after 12-15 months of age. Even then, female dogs are at risk of developing urinary incontinence (5-20% incidence depending on which study you quote) and castrated male dogs are more likely to develop prostatic disease than intact dogs. All sterilized dogs are at an increased risk of certain cancers, but the increase in incidence is very low. Perhaps the most significant finding is that sporting breeds that are spayed or neutered before a year of age have a significant increase risk in the rupture of an ACL (anterior cruciate ligament), an epidemic of all dogs these days.

So now the tide turns, and early age spay-neuter is being challenged as possibly not a benign thing. So what are humane societies and rescue groups to do? Sending pets out not sterilized will lead to less than ideal compliance, and “oops” litters will occur. The logistics of follow-up on non-sterilized pets is daunting at best, and not very practical. In the end, I have to believe that it is best to maintain policies that dictate that every pet is surgically sterilized prior to being adopted. The pros outweigh the cons. Some might argue with my opinion, and this fine, but animal over population is a plaque that just will not go away, and spaying and neutering is the one consistent, dependable tool that we have to combat the problem. Perhaps in the world of pure-bred pets there is some argument for delaying spaying and neutering, but I am not sure that this will ever apply to rescue pets.

The number of unwanted pets euthanized in our country has decreased dramatically over the years. This is a wonderful success, but there is a lot more to be achieved. All of the best successes and likely most of the future gains are and will be due to the efforts of the shelter veterinarians who spay and neuter endless animals on a daily basis. There can be no controversy here, in my opinion.

HSWC Medical Funds

Meet Theo. He came in the morning after a big storm covered in fleas, very skinny and cold. He may not have survived without immediate medical attention. With a lot of nurishment, Theo became stable and went into a foster To start over his young life with a warm bed, unconditional love and always a full belly. Theo is now a thriving, young adult and its Thanks to the HWSC Medical fund and great foster home!

The HSWC helps to provise some of the necessary funding for all types of medical care to the resident animals of HSWC. Funds donated will be used to treat featured animals. Funds in excess of featured animals needs will be used to treat other injured or ill animals in residence at HSWC.

Where does my money go?

stray animals for a 7 day period. After the 7 days, unclaimed animals become the property and responsibility of HSWC. In other words, we are payed strictly what we are owed- there is no overhead or beginning-of-the-year fee. Owners reclaiming animals pay their own bills designed to cover our expenses for their animal.

How many animals do you have right now?

As of this writing, we are caring for just over 150 animals. Approximately 20 of them are in foster care. Some of them stay for a few days, others are with us for years.

How much does it cost to care for each animal?

Average cost of an average animal from the day of intake, through the veterinary care and until adoption, we estimate at least $400 per animal.

Why can't you charge less for the contracts and for people to reclaim their animals?

Fees are based this way because:

during the "stray hold" period, it is the responsibility of the municipality where they are found to provide for their care. If an owner is found, it becomes the responsibility of the owner to cover all of the expenses. We don't feel it's fair for our donors to cover costs for owned animals when there are so many homeless animals that need the funding, and it's certainly not fair for taxpayers to foot the bill if the owner is known.

If you have questions you would like to see addressed here and/or on the website, please send them in the enclosed envelope!

Happy Landin's

Cooper has adjusted quite well, he is getting better at meeting new people and sometimes doesn't even bark at them (depending on the person). We are working on meeting other dogs too, he likes to bark at them lots but has gotten along fine once he warms up.

He has adjusted to our routine and loves the snow and playing fetch with the kids. He did well at his checkup with our vet and is in good health. We love having him as part of our family. Thank you

Batte Family

Chloe is doing amazingly. She did end up with an upper respiratory infection as soon as she got home, but I took her to vet the next day and got it all cleared up with antibiotics. She is getting along well with Beth. She became a little snuggle bug once we got her home :)

Casey Lea was a perfect and very much wanted part of my family. Due to an unexpected medical problem, living with the potential consequences of keeping her was not a choice. Fortunately, the Humane Society of Waupaca County was there to help.

Several years ago, on Valentine's Day we decided to adopt our second dog, Casey. She was an older puppy who had been adopted and brought back to the Humane Society. As a beagle and blue-heeler mix, she was full of energy and was a lot of fun.

Her favorite thing was to get her chest rubbed while she stood on my lap. If you wanted a dog with sparkling eyes and hello kisses you couldn't ask for better. Casey had this way of wrapping her paws around my arm and pulling it toward her when she wanted to be patted. If you stopped patting her and she wasn't done yet she would nudge your hands and push her way in closer.

When we took her home, we wanted to be her forever home. We took her for lots of long walks, played tennis ball catch with her in the back field and let her race around between family members in the deep snow. She was so fast and never seemed to get tired out.

My husband and I have two daughters. The oldest girl has asthma. The diagnosis happened two years ago, long after we adopted Casey. Our daughters have always grown up with a dog or dogs in our home, so we had no reason to expect that we would be unable to have them.

Our oldest daughter had several severe asthma attacks that required hospitalizations. We had her allergy tested and one of the things that she is allergic to is dogs. We were told that for her health, we could no longer have dogs in our home.

Our older dog, a Sheltie named Belle, was 11 years old. She was having continence issues and was in poor health. We came to the hard decision that we had to have her put down. We went to the vet and I held her in my arms until it was over. Belle was the sweetest dog I ever had and I miss her terribly.

Later that same week our oldest daughter had an asthma attack. We ended up briefly in the hospital again after being in the ER until 2:30am and being sent by ambulance to the hospital in Neenah. After seeing what our daughter went through we knew there was no choice. Even though we were grieving the loss of Belle, Casey had to be rehomed.

If anything happened to our daughter because we didn't let Casey go we would not have been able to live with it. I made the painful decision, and contacted the Humane Society of Waupaca County for help. I was told that I could bring Casey back.

It took about two weeks to get everything organized. I took her for a last fun day at doggie daycare made sure her shots were current and took a copy of her health records with me. We packed up her favorite chew bones, beds, and other items to bring with her. Since the issue was that we could no longer have dogs, we had no reason to keep anything and we wanted to do anything to help Casey feel better as she moved on. It was really difficult to say goodbye because she could not understand that we were not doing this because we did not love or want her. I wish she could know how much I will always miss her.

The only thing that gives me any comfort is that she has been given the chance for a good life. Not all dogs at a shelter have behavior issues. Sometimes dogs end up there that are good dogs that have had owners that were the issue. It is important for people to give these dogs a chance. We are very lucky in this community to have a place that makes such a strong commitment to serving the animals that pass through its doors such as the Humane Society of Waupaca County.

Casey was adopted within a couple of weeks of being at the adoption center. I hope that all the love we filled her up with helped her find her forever home. We could never have given her the quality of life she deserved to have if we had tried in any way to move her outside to live. There was no way we could figure out that would work for her best interest. Sometimes love means letting go.

Thank you to the Humane Society of Waupaca County for being there to make a difference.

We absolutely LOVE Ollie! He is the perfect addition to our family! He is the snuggliest, sweetest, most laid-back kitty! He is loved by all of the people in the house and gets along beautifully with our other cat and our dog! We couldn't be more pleased!

-Rachel & Lucas

Tiny is adjusting very well and we love her to pieces. She is so loveable and very playful!! Had her 1st vet visit yesterday and a manicure...LOL! Here are a few pictures of Tiny in her new home.

That you for checking up on her!!

Pam

Hannah has been settling in just fine. She has gotten to visit doggie daycare with one of her big brothers, and once she realized the other dogs were her friends and weren't going to beat her up like her siblings did, she had a great time! We are working on training and puppy manners. She's got the basics down for the most part and walks great on a leash with her other 'big' brother. Potty training is a work in progress due to having spent so much time in a kennel, but we'll get there! Otherwise she has been fitting herself right in!

We are doing great with the adjustment! Winston is fascinated by Dexter and vice versa, it's adorable! Dexter is doing really well with handling, and is such a funny bun! We are all so glad we brought him home!

Linnea Olson

This is Zipper, lucky kitty, catching a ride home with her new best friend, Ida Olson. This is the second pet Ida has given a loving home to from the HSWC Adoption Center. Both could not be happier!

I just wanted to keep you updated on Boomer. It's been about a year since we adopted Boomer at your facility. He is definitely a huge part of our family and meshed so well with everyone he meets. We continue to train him all the time. He loves his walks (we try for at least one a day), playing with soccer balls and chasing the cats.

Thanks again for helping us find a wonderful member of our family.

Let's start with what's NOT new:

We are, and always have been SOOOO appreciative of the time and energy our volunteers bring to us!!
THANK YOU!!

Our areas of specific need during the upcoming months are: puppy and kitten socializers, cat enrichment, dog walkers, snow shovellers/blowers, general animal care and fundraising.

We are also looking for someone with the talent and experience to put together a quarterly newsletter (specifically, the one you are holding).

Fundraising meetings are the second Saturday of each month at 10am. We have a Volunteer Orientation most months, date and time varies. If you fill out the sheet below and send or bring it in, we will contact you!

Garret and Alivia come with their mom and grandmother, every week without fail, to play with HSWC cats and kittens, providing hours of entertainment for them.

Days/Times you're available to volunteer:
I understand that the Humane Society of Waupaca County requires the assistance of volunteers in conducting its various programs. It is my desire to further the work of HSWC by performing services as a volunteer. I undertake to perform these services without compensation, and in performing services, I acknowledge that I am not acting as an employee of the Humane Society. I will not hold HSWC liable for any personal or property damage I may incur while performing volunteer services. I agree to conform to the HSWC policies and procedures while volunteering.
On this date I received a copy of "Major Zoonoses of Dogs and Cats". I recognize that not every illness that can be contracted from animals is listed here. I also recognize that I am responsible for reading this information and following these guidelines, and that failure to do so could result in my volunteer termination. HSWC is not responsible for illnesses and accidents that may result from my volunteer activities.
